Seniors Say Farewell to Campus

University of California seniors in their last pilgrimage of the campus. Led by the cadet band in uniform, they viewed in farewell the famous scenes of college triumphs and pleasant hours amid the oaks and historic buildings.

OLD SCENES ARE VISITED IN PARADE

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, May 11.—From building to building this morning the members of the senior class wended their way in their final pilgrimage of the scenes of their college career for the past four years. Several hundred students were in the line of procession, which started at 9 o'clock and ended shortly before

TRIBUTE IS PAID NAVY SLAIN

Men Who Fell at Vera Cruz Are Brought to New York

President Wilson Rides In Cortège and Speaks Brief Eulogy

NEW YORK, May 11.—The dead from Vera Cruz were landed on American soil today and city, state and nation paid their tribute.

Two hours before the city was astir seventeen flag-draped coffins were removed from the boat deck of the armored cruiser Montana and placed on caissons on the plaza in Battery Park. Few persons witnessed this ceremony, but thousands later lined the streets to watch the slow procession wind its way to the navy yard.

Perhaps not since the Dewey parade has there been such a spontaneous demonstration. That, however, was a noisy tribute to a returning victor; this a reverent one to the returning dead.

The weather could not have been better. The sky was almost cloudless and there was just enough breeze to flout aloft and ashore, the thousands of flags which flew at half-mast.

Silent thousands, long before 8 o'clock, began making their way toward lower Manhattan, others massed about the city hall, where the procession was to halt briefly; still others lined the approaches to the Manhattan bridge and finally a great throng gathered at the navy yard, where eulogies were to be said. Many wore little boxes of black, others wore bands of black on their sleeves.

PRESIDENT COMES QUIETLY.

President Wilson arrived in the city from Washington shortly after 7 o'clock. He was accompanied by his friend, Colonel E. M. House, and thence to the Battery to take a place in the procession. He had been arranged that the President was to go to the navy yard to receive the nation's dead on government ground, but at the last moment Mr. Wilson changed his mind and was taken to the Battery so as to participate in the ceremony from beginning to end.

Twenty-four mounted policemen led the way. Behind them were the combined bands of the dreadnoughts Wyoming and Texas, and besides the bands 600 bluejackets from these ships.

Next came the coffins in single file. At the side of each rode a policeman and at the corner of each caisson marched a National Guardsman.

The Stars and Stripes alone covered the caskets. Behind the last caisson came the carriages bearing the President, the secretary of the navy, Senators, Congressmen and representatives of the state and city.

WILSON IN LINE.

They moved in the following order:

No. 1.—President Wilson, Dr. Grayson, his physician, and Secretary Tamm.

No. 2.—Secretary of the navy, Governor Glynn, Lieutenant Commander Jones, U. S. N.

No. 3.—Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt and president of the board of aldermen, George A. McAneny.

No. 4.—Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, U. S. N., Lieutenant Colonel Cornelius Vanderbilt and other National Guard officers.

No. 5.—Collector of the Port of New York Dudley Field Malone; Brigadier General George Barnett, U. S. M. C.; Captain William D. McDougal, U. S. N.

No. 6.—General Horace Porter, former mayor of New York, Surgeon General William C. Braisted, U. S. N.; Corporation Counsel Frank L. Polk.

Nos. 7 to 9.—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University; Joseph H. Choate, A. Barton Hepburn, Dr. Clair McKelway and others.

No. 10.—Police Commissioner Arthur Woods, committee named by the mayor of Chicago.

Nos. 11 to 21.—Congressional committee.

Nos. 22 to 25.—State legislative committee.

Nos. 26 to 37.—Officers from Governor's island and navy yard.

SCENE IS MEMORABLE.

Never had the Battery witnessed such a scene as today's. Tugs nosed up to pier A and with the precision that is the navy's the 17 dead were landed, grouped on the caissons.

The Wyoming's men came ashore in their own boats. It was the Wyoming that conveyed the funeral ship into the harbor yesterday and at

Associate Justice and Former Solicitor General Wilson's Choice

To Represent American Views on Mexican Difficulty

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Associate Justice Joseph Rucker Lamar of the United States Supreme Court and Frederick W. Lehmann of St. Louis, former solicitor general, have been selected by the President to represent his views before the South American mediators in the Mexican mediation negotiations at Niagara Falls, Canada. Secretary Bryan made this official announcement today.

Whether a third representative would be appointed Mr. Bryan declined to indicate, stating that it could be assumed there would be no other.

CAPTURE LIGHTHOUSE.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The navy department today called on Rear Admiral Badger for a complete report concerning an unofficial statement that an American force had landed on Lobos island and taken possession of the lighthouse there.

First Lieutenant Charles M. Maigie, U. S. A., retired, who went through the Mexican lines at Vera Cruz in the capacity of correspondent for a Washington newspaper, was arrested today on returning to Vera Cruz. Adversely of his arrest reached the department from General Funston.

Maigie's arrest was ordered from Washington on the ground that it would be difficult satisfactorily to explain the presence of an American officer within the lines of those who contest the right of the United States on Mexican soil.

Orders had previously gone out for Maigie to cease writing newspaper stories and when General Funston reported that the retired officer had passed through the Mexican federal lines the order for his arrest followed.

Officials here took the view that as Lieutenant Maigie, although retired, still is subject to the jurisdiction of Secretary Garrison, it would be difficult if not impossible to satisfy the Mexican federal commander that the officers' presence within the enemy's lines was in his purely civilian capacity and not as a United States military spy.

Admiral Mayo has reported that twenty-three cannon shots were heard at Tampico last night. American Consul C. A. Miller and the vice-consul, he reported, now are aboard the Connecticut. Ten or fifteen Americans refused to leave the city.

Mexican Gunboat Is Blown Up by Rebels

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Rear Admiral Howard of the Pacific fleet reported today that the abandoned Mexican gunboat, the Albatross, was blown up by the constitutionalists at Mazatlan.

Admiral Howard further reported that the constitutionalist artillery at San Pedro de la Paz drove the Mexican transport, Korrigan, out of the harbor. The yacht Iola has been towed from Guaymas to La Paz by the Cleveland. The Iola is the yacht on which Arthur Payne, a wealthy young man of Menlo Park, Cal., started for Guaymas. It was two weeks overdue at Mazatlan.

LABOR MEN VICTORS IN DECISION

Mitchell and Gompers Sentences Again Set Aside

U. S. Supreme Court Holds Punishment Is Barred

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The contempt sentences imposed by the District Supreme Court on Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, labor leaders, were set aside today by the Supreme Court for the second time, as barred by the statute of limitations.

Justice Holmes, in beginning the opinion, said that contempt was not to be treated as conspiracies, a point urged on the court in behalf of the labor leaders.

Justice Holmes said the case turned on the point that the contempt proceedings should have been started within three years from the date of the committing of the offense. He said proceedings for contempt should be speedy and thus come within the purpose of the statute of limitations, which require prosecutions within three years. Justices Pitney and Vandewater dissented.

LIMIT IN TIME.

In concluding his decision Justice Holmes spoke as follows: "Even if the statute does not cover the case by its express words, as we think it does, still in dealing with the punishment of crime a rule should be laid down, if not by congress, by this court. The power to punish for contempt must have some limit in time and in defining that limit we should have regard to what has been the policy of the law from the foundation of the government."

By analogy, if not by enactment, the limit is three years. "In a country where not even treason can be prosecuted after a lapse of three years could scarcely be supposed an individual would remain forever liable to a pecuniary forfeiture."

The result is that the judgments, based, as they are, mainly on offenses that could not be taken into consideration must be reversed."

IS CONTEMPT CRIME?

The decision settled the point that contempt of court are crimes. The point has been raised in contempt cases throughout the country.

The contempt charges against the labor leaders occurred in 1907 and early in 1908, about the time the District of Columbia Supreme Court issued an injunction prohibiting the federation officials from boycotting the Buck Stove and Range Company of St. Louis, then in a labor war with organized labor.

The labor leaders were sentenced to jail, but the Supreme Court of the United States, in 1911, set the conviction aside because the labor leaders had been proceeded against as if the proceedings were a part of the boycott suit. The District Court, the day after the reversal, then began separate proceedings against the leaders for the same offense.

The contempt charges against Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison grew out of the injunction issued by the District of Columbia Supreme Court to prohibit the boycott suit.

at the Hotel Oakland. Mr. and Mrs. Ripley arrived at Richmond last evening, in their private car, from Santa Barbara, where they have been spending several months at their winter home.

President Ripley crossed the bay this morning to visit the San Francisco office of the company, and Mrs. Ripley came in the car to Oakland with a party of friends for the day. They will leave for the East in a day or two, to spend the summer.

ROMANCE IS BARED

Divorce Trial Reveals Auto Man's Attention to Countess

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—A ray of light was shed on the mystery surrounding the sensational suicide nearly a year ago at the St. Francis hotel of the Countess Olga Temochitch during the testimony in the case of Ora M. Johnson, who brought suit for divorce against Stuart Gordon Johnson, a prominent automobile man of this city.

The countess killed herself almost on the eve of her marriage to Isaac Upham, Jr., prominent clubman and society favorite, and the veil of mystery which surrounded the rash act of the beautiful young foreigner was never lifted. Today, however, it developed through the evidence given during the Johnson hearing that the defendant had paid court to Miss Temochitch.

The disclosure came during the examination of John Loreen, a mining man of Bradley, Cal., who was supporting Mrs. Johnson's allegations of extreme cruelty. The witness described seeing Johnson arrive at Paso Robles in an automobile with a woman other than his wife, whom he registered as Mrs. Johnson. Loreen said he protested to the hotel management. On another occasion he described picking up Johnson's son, Stuart, aged 24 years, and remarking to him that he was a "little devil."

USED ENDEARING TERMS.

Coming to this city on one occasion Loreen averred he was with Johnson when the latter called up an apartment at the St. Francis hotel and used endearing terms to a woman who resided there.

BRIDGE WILL FILED

Document Disposes of $30,000, of Which Supervisor Gets Share

Bequests aggregating $30,000, the greater portion of which go to relatives in England, are made in the will of the late Thomas Bridge of Fruitvale, who died on May 5. Supervisor W. B. Bridge, adopted son, is given $20,000, while his four children are left $10,000 each. The residue of the large estate, consisting of stocks, bonds and realty, is bequeathed to Frank J. Woodward, Oakland capitalist, who is named executor. The three children of the executor are given $10,000 each. Besides the adopted son, Thomas Bridge left no children. Frank J. Woodward today filed the will in the Superior Court and asked for letters testamentary.

LOCKOUT ORDERED IN S. F. BUILDING TRADES

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—A general lockout in the local building trades industry was ordered today by the Building Trades Employers' Association. This action was brought about by the refusal of union painters to call off a strike for higher wages current for a month. About 25,000 men are affected.

It is thought that the lockout will effect a settlement of the dispute. The president of the Building Trades Council, P. H. McCarthy, while deploring the action of the employers, intimated that labor is fully equipped to cope with the situation and is prepared to meet the emergency.

The striking painters demand an increase in pay of 50 cents a day and have been on strike since April 14.

VOTE IS PLEDGED

Referendum for Water Plant Purchase Provided for by Supervisors

The County Board of Supervisors passed a resolution today agreeing that the board's appointee to the directorate of the proposed water district shall be pledged to give the voters a referendum on any purchase of property and shall obtain a valuation from the State Railroad Commission. The resolution was passed by a unanimous vote of the board.

The board took action under the belief that the people should be assured of the protection of the referendum in the water district matter. Their action assures the voters that eight of the thirteen directors of the water district board shall be pledged to a referendum on all matters involving the purchase of property, and also that eight of these directors shall be pledged to obtain a valuation on the property to be taken from the State Railroad Commission.

By the resolution formally passed by the Alameda County Board of Supervisors this morning it has been assured that all the appointive directors shall be pledged to a referendum policy on the water district matter, and also to obtaining a valuation from the state railroad commission.

This agreement, according to attorneys, is a landmark in the history of the people's right to be heard on matters of public importance.

light long, outlined in lights, she swung at anchor 300 yards ahead of the Montana's bow.

The cortege began to move at 9 o'clock, the ship's bands playing a funeral march, and the bluejackets with arms reversed. The crowd stood with hared heads. Through the skyscraper canyon of lower Broadway, past old Trinity church and into the City Hall Plaza, the procession passed. At the city hall, whose columns and portico were draped in black, the cortege halted. Mayor Mitchell placed in a casket a wreath of orchids, the city's tribute. As he did so the bluejackets stood at "present arms" and 800 school children sang "Nearer, My God to Thee."

MYRIADS PAY TRIBUTE

There the ceremonies were simple and comparatively brief—a hymn by the battleship bands, an invocation by Chaplain William G. Cassard of Annapolis, then President Wilson's address. Prayers by Rabbi Stephen S. Wise and Father John P. Chadwick, chaplain of the Maine, followed. Three volleys fired by a detachment of marines from the Texas and "taps" by a bugler completed the program.

Dennis J. Lane, seaman, battleship New Hampshire, New York City.

Samuel Marten, private, marine corps, Chicago.

Rufus Edward Perry, private, marine corps, Concord, N. H.

George Poinsett, seaman, battleship Florida, Philadelphia.

Charles Allen Smith, ordinary seaman, battleship New Hampshire, Philadelphia.

Albin Eric Stream, ordinary seaman, battleship New Jersey, Brooklyn.

Randolph Summerlin, private, marine corps, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Walter L. Tamm, ordinary seaman, battleship Arkansas, Orleans, Mass.

Of these 14 will be sent from the navy yard to relatives.

The bodies of three, Haggerty, Perry and Watson, will be taken back on the Montana for removal to New England.

After the invocation by Chaplain Cassard at the navy yard, Secretary Daniels turned to the President and said:

"Mr. President, I have the solemn honor to report to you, as commander-in-chief of the United States navy, the names of the fifteen sailors and four marines who recently at Vera Cruz sealed with their blood their devotion to the flag of their country. All were in the prime of vigorous young manhood. Of the 19 who answered their last roll call, thirteen were 22 or under. The oldest was 36, the youngest 19. Their average age was but a little over 22. They gave not only all they were, but all they hoped to be."

The first to make the noblest contribution that a man may give was George Poinsett of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. He was in his twentieth year and served as seaman on the United States battleship Florida.

"I hand you, sir, the names of these heroes, recorded high on the national roll of honor, that they may be preserved in the archives of our republic. Their services will be held in lasting remembrance by a grateful people."

President Wilson had no formal address prepared after Secretary Daniels read to him the names of the American dead in whose honor the services were held. The President's reply was delivered with slow impressiveness. His voice was low and fervent and his face was grave.

THESE ARE AMERICANS.

Said President Wilson:

"I listened again to this list with a profound interest at the mixture of the names for the names bear the marks of the several national stocks from which these men came. But they are not Irishmen or Germans or Frenchmen or Hebrews any more. They were not when they went to Vera Cruz; they were Americans, everyone of them, and were no different in their Americanism because of the stock from which they came. Therefore they were in a peculiar sense of our blood and they proved it by showing that they were of our spirit; that no matter what the destination, no matter where the people came from, they thought and wished and did the things that were American, and the flag under which they served was a flag in which all the blood of mankind were united to make a free nation."

"War, gentlemen, is only a sort of dramatic representation, a sort of dramatic symbol of a thousand forms of duty. I never went into battle, I never was under fire, but I fancy that there are some things just as hard to do as to go under fire. I fancy it is just as hard to do your duty when men are sneering at you as when they are shooting at you."

WHAT MAKES A MAN.

"When they shoot at you they can only take your natural life; when they sneer at you they can wound your heart. And men who are brave enough, steadfast enough, steady enough, in their principles to go about their duty with regard to their fellow-men, no matter whether there are bullets or cheers—men who can do what Rudyard Kipling in one of his poems wrote:

"Meet with triumph and disaster, And treat those two impostors just the same—"

"these are men of whom a nation may be proud."

triumph are impostors. The cheers of the moment are not what a man ought to think about, but the verdict of his conscience and of the consciences of mankind. So when I look at you I feel as if I also and we all were enlisted men—not enlisted in your particular branch of the service, but enlisted to serve the country, come what may come, even though we may waste our lives in the arduous endeavor.

THE LESSON WE LEARN.

"We are expected to put the utmost courage of every power that we have into the service of our fellow-men, never sparing ourselves, not condescending to think of what is going to happen to ourselves, but ready, if need be, to go to the utter length of complete self-sacrifice."

"As I stand and look at you today and think of those spirits that have gone from us, I know that the road is clearer for the future. These boys have shown us the way and it is easier to walk on it because they have gone before and shown us how."

"May God grant to all of us that vision of patriotic service which here in solemnity, grief and pride is borne in on our hearts and consciences."

The President and Secretary Tamm and Dr. Grayson entered an automobile and were taken back across the bridge to Manhattan.

The 17 coffins remained on the parade ground for half an hour, still guarded by the sailor pallbearers, and then were taken to the naval barracks for distribution to the escorts that will convey them to family homes.

Three hundred of the prettiest and most talented girls in San Francisco and other bay cities, from the heiress to the girl who earns her living, are being drilled daily at the Knights of Columbus headquarters for the production of "A Japanese Honeymoon," a pretentious and spectacular opera to be produced here for the benefit of the hospital bed and charity fund of the San Francisco Bay Councils Chapter of the Knights of Columbus, on the nights of May 25, 26, 27 and 28, in Knights of Columbus Auditorium.

reached here through unofficial channels that General Pablo Gonzales and General Luis Caballero, in command of the Constitutionalists, have captured the city, officials here believe the main attack on the position of General Zangarosa has not yet been crossed here.

They place supreme confidence, however, on the handling of the artillery by Major Manuel Prieto, who is in charge of the Constitutionalists' guns. Major Prieto is a graduate of Chapultepec Military Academy and is expected to open the opportunity for a dash by the Constitutional troops of Gonzales and Caballero.

The Federal position, it is reported, is extremely strong. Protected on one side by the Panuco river and on the other by the Laguna, the Federal entrenchments are said to command what is virtually the only approach to the center of the city. If this position is carried, however, the Federals will be cut off from retreat except by boat.

George C. Carothers, special representative of the state department, left today for Torreon, where he will join the Constitutionalists. He expects to accompany General Villa and Carranza on the campaign against Saltillo and San Luis Potosi.

Has Full Company Ready to Offer U. S.

Philip Mason, veteran of the Philippine campaign, who recently announced the organization of a troop to offer to the government in case of trouble in Mexico, has organized a full company of men and declares that he is ready to start with them as soon as called on. The company has taken temporary headquarters at 1506 Broadway, where more enlistments will be received in an effort to recruit a second company. Mason's men are principally veterans of the Spanish-American war.

No Anxiety Felt for Davis and McCormick

VERA CRUZ, May 11.—Little anxiety is felt here for the safety of Richard Harding Davis and Medill McCormick, correspondents, who went through the lines to Mexico City last week. Davis carried credentials from the Brazilian consul here and McCormick had a letter from the British consul. These were accepted by General Maas, although Frederick Palmer, who attempted to go through the lines as an American, was turned back.

HUERTA PROTESTS.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Secretary Bryan indicated today that the reported seizure of the Mexican light house at Lobos Island by Admiral Mayo has been made the subject of a protest by the Huerta government.

He said the matter had been called to his attention by the South American ministers at the direction, he assumed, of Huerta.

He added an investigation of the report of the seizure had been ordered, but the state department had no direct information on the subject.

STILL IN PRISON.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—American Consul Silliman still is imprisoned at Saltillo, according to a later dispatch from the Brazilian minister in Mexico City, who reported to the state department that he had made the strongest representations possible for the release of the American. Mr. Silliman's clerk, Mr. Marchioni, has been set at liberty and left for Vera Cruz yesterday.

Meyer, of San Francisco, a director, and Mr. C. N. White, the executive secretary, of the California Social Hygiene Society. WILSON AFFRONT WESTERN SHRINERS

President's Refusal to Receive Visitors From California
Regarded as Snub.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Despite the great reception they received here yesterday, the California Shriners did not leave Washington altogether pleased with their visit to the capital.

The Shriners were much displeased because they were not received by President Wilson at the White House, which they expected. Though strenuous efforts were made by local Potentate Gibbs and the California Congressmen to arrange, through Secretary Tumulty, for the distinguished visitors to meet Wilson and see the famous "White House," their efforts were "turned down" by Tumulty.

Representative Kettner, when it was found that the President would not meet the Shriners, tried hard to get Tumulty to have Wilson at least come out on the White House portico and bow to the marching Shriners, but even this request was refused by Tumulty. The President preferred to meet the Californians, and while the visitors were here Wilson was on the Chevy Chase links.

The refusal of Tumulty to have the Shriners received at the White House was learned today, and caused many biting comments among the visitors, practically none of whom had ever met the President, and all of whom had looked forward to at least shaking Wilson's hand.

These criticisms were not confined to the visitors, but were also voiced by many members of Congress who are Shriners, and who entertained the visiting temples. The Californians marched by the White House in their magnificent parade, but a look through the gates of the mansion was as near as they got to the President.

MAZDA GYMNASIUM CLUB WILL GIVE EXHIBITION

Mazda Gymnasium Club will give an exhibition of gymnastic work and entertainment in the Twelfth street armory, Monday evening, May 18. M. P. CREDIT BOLTS $25,000,000 LOAN

Bankers Explain in Letter to Gould Why Funds Are Shy

NEW YORK, May 11.—Kuhn, Loeb & Company's recent letter to directors of the Missouri Pacific Railway Company, declining to undertake the financing for $25,000,000 collateral notes maturing June 1, made public today, contains a resume of the reports of the banking firm's expert accountant on the condition of the Missouri Pacific & Iron Mountain railways.

"The report of our expert upon the physical condition and operations of your properties is favorable and reflects much credit upon President Bush's management," the letter states. "On the other hand, from the accountant's report, it appears, taking into consideration the depreciation charges required under the rules of the Interstate Commerce Commission and various other items which beginning with the coming fiscal year will considerably increase the charges against the Missouri Pacific system have become decidedly too heavy, both in relation to earnings and in proportion to the equity represented by the amount of stock outstanding."

CREDIT IS VITAL.

"It is vital to these properties that their credit be established and maintained upon a basis which will command the confidence of investors and shippers and the general public."

Describing the financial situation of the Missouri Pacific system, the bankers say that for maturing equipment and for greatly needed additional equipment and other obligations at least $10,000,000 will be needed in the next two years. In addition to the $25,000,000 required by June 1, $20,000,000 of bonds are falling due within three years, and $30,000,000 during the four years following that. The separate items of these issues must not be extended in accordance with the provisions of the existing refunding mortgage, they add.

MORE STABLE BASIS.

A "broader and more stable basis of permanent credit" must be created, the bankers say, permitting a reduction of the volume of fixed charges in the best interests of the property and its stockholders.

The vital remedial steps needed ought to and can be taken, the letter states, "without the heavy expense, delays and complications in having recourse to legal proceedings."

"With their natural advantages and under efficient management and with the consummation of the financial and other measures referred to, the railroads of the Missouri Pacific system should attain stable and assured prosperity," the bankers conclude, after stating that the three weeks left before the maturity of the $25,000,000 do not allow time to carry out their suggestions for the amending of the existing mortgage into a mortgage into effect, and that they, therefore, cannot undertake the requisite financing for it.

BUTCHERS IN SESSION.

DETROIT, May 11.—The Amalgamated Meatcutters and Butcher Workmen of North America convened here today in annual session. Better co-operation with the public in the sale of the goods they handle was one of the matters to be discussed at length, according to the scheduled program.

LONDON, May 11.—A bomb placed by suffragettes exploded yesterday afternoon in the gallery of the Metropolitan Tabernacle in South London, an edifice made famous by the late Charles H. Spurgeon.

Little damage was done. It is believed that the bomb was placed in the gallery during the morning service, which ended at 12:30 o'clock. An hour later the explosion occurred. Near the spot where the bomb exploded was a card on which was written: "Our petition into parliament and see that women obtain their freedom."

MILITIA ON TRIAL FOR HORROR

Court Martial of Officers and Men in Ludlow Battle Begins

Colorado Authorities and War Department

WASHINGTON, May 11.—No mines will be permitted to reopen in the Colorado strike district for the present, Secretary Garrison announced today. He denied that orders had been issued forbidding the importation of strike-breakers, but explained that while the situation remained threatening the mines, which were not already running probably would be kept closed until, in his judgment, their opening would precipitate no further trouble.

"It makes no difference whether strike-breakers are imported or whether the labor is on the ground," said Mr. Garrison. "We are not going to permit anything that would aggravate the situation. The mines will be allowed to reopen as soon as conditions warrant."

DENVER, Colo., May 11.—The general court martial of all officers and enlisted men of the state militia who participated in the Ludlow battle, on April 20, began today at the state rifle range at Golden.

The court martial is the result of the recommendation of the military commission appointed by Major General Chase to investigate the battle. Captain Edwin A. Smith acted as judge-advocate, vice Major E. J. Boughton, who was a member of the commission recommending the court. The other members of the court were Colonel W. A. Davis, Colonel Edward Verdeck Berg, Colonel George Leo, Colonel George Lingenfelter, Major J. H. Goodhue and Major W. A. Smith. Among the subjects to be particularly inquired into are the deaths of Louis Tinas and James E. Fier, unknown, taken prisoners at the beginning of the battle of Ludlow.

LEGISLATIVE ACTS

The second week of the special session of the Legislature, called to meet the emergency of the state's industrial conflict, opened today with a general advance of the administration measures and with the liquor bill practically the first to reach the governor.

This bill was before the House for third reading at its convening today. Its prompt passage and transmission to the governor was the plan of the administration leaders.

The measure would prevent the selling of liquor by saloons or drug stores should the governor issue a proclamation of prohibition. Penalties for violations include canceling of all licenses held by such places. As some breweries own the licenses of several thousand saloons, the violation by one saloon's nominal proprietor would revoke all licenses held by the concern owning the license.

The compulsory arbitration bill was up for third and final reading in the Senate and should reach the House late today.

The bill providing $1,000,000 for the state militia act is expected to pass the House on third reading and reach the Senate today.

Leaders of the House and Senate look for adjournment Saturday night.

Strike Breaking Is Forbidden by President Wilson

TRINIDAD, Colo., May 11.—President Wilson, through the war department, today instructed Colonel James Lockett, commanding federal troops in Southern Colorado, to permit no importation of strike-breakers, and announced that a time limit would be set at once within which delivery of arms must be completed, according to a statement by Major Holbrook last night. Major Holbrook said both subjects would be treated in proclamations later.

Colonel Lockett last night announced that the war department had determined to permit the rehabilitation of the "strike" tent colony at Ludlow, provided the federal military officers are given a roll of the inhabitants, together with the addresses of their former places of employment, and provided further that a union man of strong influence is placed in charge of the camp, with whom the military officers might confer.

In his statement upon President Wilson's instructions upon strike-breakers, Major Holbrook said that the commanding officers here had been advised that no man shall be employed in any mine in the Colorado coal fields who had not been actually in his employ April 22, the date of the President's first proclamation ordering the federal troops into the field was published.

CLOSE SCOUTING

No mine that was closed down at the time of, or before the strike, will be permitted to open, according to Major Holbrook's statement, but all others may be operated under full protection from the government.

Strikers, those formerly employed at certain mines, will be permitted to return to work at the specific mines of their former employment if they choose and if they are desired by their former employers, according to Major Holbrook.

In connection with the President's announcement that a time limit would

The present High Sub-Chief Ranger, Brother Realy, is serving his first term as a High Court officer. ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The work of the convention will occupy four days, devoted to consideration of several proposed amendments to the general laws. Election of officers to serve as an Executive Council for the next two years will take place Thursday, May 14.

The following members constitute the present executive council: George W. Lunt, High Chief Ranger, San Francisco; J. W. AUTO FALLS FROM HIGH SLOPE

Mrs. S. H. Taylor and Mrs. J. M. Wilson Injured

Machine Describes Arc and Somersault on Sankey Road

Carried down a fifty-foot declivity when their automobile backed off the outer edge of the steep Sankey road in Contra Costa county last night, four persons had a providential escape from death and two of the party received injuries which may prove serious. Mrs. Samuel H. Taylor, 123 Bonita avenue, Piedmont, is the most seriously hurt with a severe laceration of the scalp, a sprained shoulder, serious contusions. Mrs. Ida Mansfield Wilson, 1554 Lawton avenue, suffers a sprain of the back and bruises. Samuel H. Taylor and Miss Catherine Henley, sister of Mrs. Taylor, escaped with comparatively slight injuries.

RETURNING FROM OUTING.

The accident occurred several miles from Lafayette as the party was returning to Oakland from a day's outing. Taylor, who is president and general manager of the Electrical Supply Company of San Francisco, was the driver of his wife and two children. When he had reached a point about two hundred feet from the summit of the ridge on the eastern side, Taylor noticed that his motor was becoming overheated. He braked the car, stepped out and lifted the hood to cool the motor.

After waiting some 15 minutes Taylor closed the hood and was about to examine the battery when a snap was heard and the car started to back toward the edge of the grade. Taylor jumped quickly to the driver's seat and tugged at the brake, which refused to work. With rapidly gathering momentum, the heavy machine went over the bank and turned completely over, describing a wide arc as it fell down the slope.

DEATH ESCAPE MIRACULOUS.

Mrs. Wilson and Miss Henley were thrown clear of the machine and fell in the grassy tract. The driver and his wife escaped by a narrow margin. The car rolled over and over, but miraculously escaped from the edge of the cliff. When the car had rolled over and over, Taylor noticed that his motor was becoming overheated. Hanselman and William Dowse, who was driving with him, were arrested on charges of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. What Are Good Manners?

(By LILLIAN RUSSELL)

WHEN we see the crudities of people who should be examples of culture and good manners, then we wonder what sort of home bringing up is going on in the majority of the so-called "families." The very old saying, "Manners maketh the man," is brought to our minds and an inner assent is felt, if not expressed verbally.

woman, and perfect manners go farthest to the charm that the gift of beauty. What attraction has a beautiful girl who "hollers" when she talks or shrieks when she laughs? How unattractive a girl is who, when she is dancing in a drawing room or ballroom, reaches out her arm and pushes people aside. Of course it is only bad dancers who do such unmanly acts—which prove conclusively among a rough class of people.

Too much freedom and license is given to the younger set today. They go about unchaperoned—to hotels and restaurants, where dancing is promiscuous. They seem to think it attractive and smart to use vulgar slang and give it out in a loud voice for the benefit of all around, whether included in the party or not. I am sorry to say that the bad manners of women are in the majority today—so much so that a really quiet, refined and reserved woman stands out with singular attractiveness.

Good manners are most beautiful to one's personality; added to an extremely plain girl or woman they express inner refinement, gentleness and charm. I would most forcibly say that good manners can be taught by the golden rule. Think what you would have others do to you, and how you would like to be treated by them, and so do to them and treat them in just that way—you can make but few mistakes if you follow that rule.

Remember: All have the same privileges in this world and there is only a thin veil between charm and harm.

G. B.—If your eyes water easily it is probably either that they are weak or that there is some trouble existing with the tear ducts. In eye strain the lids sometimes twitch or they may be sensitive to light, or letters may become indistinct and a few moments of reading. There are many other symptoms of eye strain, one of which is sick headache. I would advise you to consult an oculist about your eyes and have them examined. The eyes are too precious to neglect. Every morning wash your eyes with a good eye wash. I shall be glad to send you the formula for an eye wash if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope.

AN OLD SUBSCRIBER.—For reducing take a pound of epsom salts and dissolve in a pint of water, then shave fine one and a half bars of the best white soap and dissolve in a pint of boiling water. When perspiration cool beat in the epsom salt solution. Massage this preparation heavily into the fleshy parts of the body and allow it to dry on the skin. In the morning wash off. Continue treatment until flesh disappears. The average loss of weight is two pounds per week. This treatment is perfectly harmless.

C. M.—A red nose comes from impaired or impeded circulation, from the use of alcoholic liquors, tight gloves, corsets or any tight clothing, and often from indigestion. Like many other detrimental habits it is curable only by finding out which of several causes to ascribe it to, and by removing the cause. Bathe daily with alcohol. This may help.

A NAIVE gentleman exploring Europe to see compliments back to America. In one of the current magazines I write: "Not even in Paris did the tango experts compare with the tango experts one sees in America," and continues with the history of the most famous tangoists of Paris, which he traces back to the Fourth ward of the Borough of Manhattan, thus demonstrating that the famous tangoist of Paris is an American.

It recalls the compliments of a recent authority for California women, the most beautiful natural dancers in the world, he said, with a possible explanation in the buoyant atmosphere for inspiration and the free outdoors that is never frozen over to lend a freedom of grace.

After all it may be true. Two of the great dancers of their time are California women, and one of them, Isadora Duncan, first danced in Oakland. Maud Allan was a San Francisco girl. Only last winter Pavlova said another California girl, Winifred De Wolfe, is destined to be a great dancer, which would seem three.

Miss De Wolfe is spending a six months' vacation from her studies in Paris with her parents, the Edgar De Wolfes. She is quite indifferent to everything but dancing, though they have tried to persuade her to a debut which would seem three.

There is a young Oakland matron, who might have been a Genee, they say—Mrs. Bud Havens, who has all of the Genee's fairy lightness. When she was Miss Estelle Hughes she was the prettiest dancer at San Francisco parties, and when "Bud" Havens gave his memorable ball at the St. Francis little Miss Hughes' thirteenth birthday was the sensation of the evening. She danced usually with the host and it wasn't long afterward their engagement was announced. Mrs. Havens might have been counted among famous dancers of California had she gone in for it, as Winifred De Wolfe has.

LILLIAN NORDICA, FAMED SINGER, IS DEAD

Divia Stricken When Steamer Goes Ashore; Illness Resulting Ends in Death

BATAVIA, Java, May 11.—The body of Madame Lillian Nordica, the American singer, who died here from pneumonia last night, is to be sent to the United States. It will leave here on May 16, enclosed in a Chinese casket.

BATAVIA, Java, May 11.—Mme. Lillian Nordica, the singer, died here last night.

Lowed a long illness resulting from a wreck of a steamer on which she was a passenger. Her illness was followed by nervous prostration and then an attack of pneumonia, from which she rallied at one time, and hope of her recovery was felt. In April, Mme. Nordica and her company left New York for a tour of the world. They were aboard the Dutch steamer Tassman on December 23 when that craft went ashore in the Gulf of Papua, near Thursday Island. After several days of uncertainty the steamer was floated, but Mme. Nordica, who had been kept aboard, began to show signs of a nervous breakdown.

She was landed at Thursday Island, where, in January, pneumonia set in. After a long battle with the disease she rallied, and, against the advice of her physician, set sail April 1 on the steamer Houtman for Batavia, Java. A relapse followed and she gradually sank to her death.

Mme. Nordica's husband, George T. Young, was in New York at the time of the wreck.

Mme. Nordica was, perhaps, the most distinguished singer ever born this side of the Atlantic. The year of her birth, according to the best accounts, was 1851. She was a native of Farmington, Me. Her childhood days, after a short schooling, were spent in a Boston dry goods store.

Her rise was rapid. Before she was 25 she had won a reputation as a soloist with Gilman's Band in Europe, where her first big success came in Paris. She then went to Milan to study.

At the age of 28 she sang at the opera at a little theater in Brescia as Violetta in "La Traviata." Later in the same year she went to St. Petersburg and to German cities. Her reputation was thoroughly established. She sang the leading soprano of the Grand Opera, Paris, in 1881.

While in Paris she met Frederic Gower, an American pianist. They were married in 1883, but in 1885 Mrs. Gower set about procuring a divorce.

Mme. Nordica's most sensational musical success was her appearance in the summer of 1904 at the World's Fair festival at Barre, Vt. She scored another and perhaps greater triumph the following year as Isolde in Wagner's "Tristan and Isolde" at the Metropolitan Opera Company.

In 1886 the singer married Zoltan Dieme, a Hungarian tenor. She obtained a divorce from him in 1904.

Her third marriage was in 1904 to George W. Young, a wealthy New York banker.

MRS. GEORGE WINGFIELD SUFFERS RELAPSE
RENO, Nev., May 11.—The condition of Mrs. George Wingfield, who was reported out of danger, suddenly grew alarmingly worse last night. Her temperature has gone much higher, causing such anxiety that the San Francisco physicians who had attended her last week may be summoned to return here. Dr. George McKendry, the family physician, announces that he will not leave Mrs. Wingfield's side.

Hot-and-Cold Gown Latest Pull a String—That's All!

HERE'S THE "PULL-THE-STRING GOWN." HOWEVER, THE STRING DOES NOT SHOW IN THE PICTURE.

LONDON, May 11.—"When it's cold, it's the latest fad. If the sun comes out, and it's hot, just pull the string!"

That's how the describe the latest hot-and-cold gown that's taken London by storm. It's not so much, just to look at. When the weather's foggy, one can't see anything, and when it isn't well, then the wearer just pulls the string and draws the neck and hobbie tight—and she's all right. It's a different matter, but at present they're all to the good at the mechanical ingenuity.

In 1886 the singer married Zoltan Dieme, a Hungarian tenor. She obtained a divorce from him in 1904.

Madame Is'bell's Beauty Lesson

LESSON II—PART IV.
BEAUTY HYGIENE FOR HOT DAYS.
Perspiration on the body, especially on the feet and hands, sometimes becomes so excessive that it constitutes a disease. In the case of feet that perspire freely change the stockings every day, bathe the feet twice a day, taking care to dry them thoroughly. Dust with talcum powder. If this is not sufficient apply night and morning a solution of alcohol and salicylic acid in the proportion of a tablespoon of salicylic acid to a quart of alcohol. This same treatment can be used for the hands or the armpits.

While I do not believe in too much water on the face during the hot days, I am a firm advocate of its free use on the body. The skin of the face and the body are not only somewhat different in structure, but exposed to such different conditions that the same treatment does not apply. Perfect physical cleanliness is necessary, both for health and beauty.

Diet for Hot Weather.
Food during the summer should be confined to that which can be easily digested and assimilated with the system. Fruits and the vegetables that grow in abundance at this season represent the food that Nature points out to us, and should be freely eaten. Sweets which are eaten even more in summer than in winter, and I want my beauty-loving girls to forswear them or partake very moderately.

Lemonade and weak iced tea are good summer drinks, but remember that the more elaborate beverages that pour from the soda fountain. Wine, beer or any drink with spirit in it are beauty destroying at any time, but doubly so in the summer.

They should be forbidden.

Madame Is'bell

Madame Is'bell's next lesson, which will appear in this column, will be on the subject of beauty. It will treat of beauty troubles peculiar to the skin and how to overcome them. Madame Is'bell will be very glad to answer any questions of this nature from her girl readers.

CUP CHALLENGER WORK OF YACHTSMEN OF THREE CITIES

"Defiance" to Take Water at the Bidding of Big Syndicate.

BATH, Maine, May 11.—The Defiance, one of the three yachts which will seek the honor of defending the America's cup in the races against the Thomas Lipton challenger next fall, will be launched here tomorrow. She will be launched bow first instead of stern first, as is customary.
The Defiance is the second of the three boats to get into the water. The Resolute, owned by a syndicate of New York Yacht Club members, took her maiden plunge at Bristol, R. I., two weeks ago, while the Vanitie, which is being built at Boston for Alexander Smith Cochran, is on her ways.

The Defiance carries the aspirations of fifteen yachtsmen. It is called the Tri-City yacht, the syndicate of owners being made up of eight men from Boston, six from New York and one from Philadelphia. George M. Pynchon of New York, E. Walter Clark of Philadelphia, and Henry Taggart, of Boston, were the prime movers. Mr. Pynchon is the manager and Mr. Clark the treasurer of the syndicate.

The other members are George Luder,
George D. Barron, James B. Ford, E.
Trowbridge Hall and Thomas C. Dunham of New York, Oliver Ames, J. C. Hobbs, F. C. Fletcher, Charles Hayden, P. S.
Peabody, Eliot Winsworth, and E. S.
Webster of Boston.

George Owen of Newton, Mass., was selected as designer, and the contract for construction awarded to the Bath Iron Works, Bath, Maine.

It was decided to make the boat of composite construction, with steel frames and a double wooden skin, the inner of which is fir and the outer of gibbon mahogany. The lead keel was run on January 9.

The Defiance is a distinctly modern yacht, with a moderately long body and overhang, sharp bilges, full garboards and a keel which resembles the old fin type, but is considerably thicker, with some sixty tons of lead on the bottom.
She is longer and wider than the Resolute, but her draught is practically the same.

The feature of the Defiance is in her rig. The mast is well forward of the center, in fact about half way between the center of the lead and the bow. She will, therefore, be a single lower jaw while her mainsail will be the largest of the three boats. Her rig is also very lofty. The exact dimensions of the Defiance are withheld for the present, but it has been stated that her other general measurements are approximately 115 feet over all, 12.9 feet in the water line, 25.5 feet beam, 12.9 feet draught and she will carry about 9500 square feet of canvas.

Theoretically the Defiance should point higher and foot faster than her rivals, but in fact she will probably prove to be a difficult boat to steer.
Bringing the yacht to form will be accomplished in the smooth waters of upper Long Island sound, probably off Mr.
Fletcher's summer residence at Greenwich, Conn.

Captain Belah B. Howell, of Highland,
N. Y., will be skipper of the Defiance.
Fletcher expects to hold the yacht when in the races sailed by Mr. Clark and other members of the syndicate.
The mast and crew were formerly on the ship Isadora.

Interest in cup racing has been since 1893, while it is Philadelphia's first appearance.

GO AT HARNESSE.
Some people saw the harness
on the Golden Gate park stadium, and the Golden Gate for all the horses in the race sailed by Mr. Clark and other members of the syndicate.

Diamond Flashes

By L. B. GROSS.

It will be hard for the rabid fans across the bay to pick out Devlin's Diggers this week, after the artistic manner in which they captured the series from the league-leading Tigers. With the Oaks playing a brand of baseball that is calculated to win a pennant, they ramped home with a double header yesterday, thereby upsetting the dope of the transbay experts.

In the meantime the San Francisco penitent hopes were trampled upon by Harry Wolverton's rejuvenated Wolves who, after a week of being out of the diamond at Sacramento, and as a result Howard's crew will return home today with but one out of seven games to their credit, which is a poor record for a team showing for a team that a couple of short weeks ago were taking every body down the line. It was the Oakland team that first broke the winning streak of the transbay tilters, and that the Diggers will repeat this week is a foregone conclusion. Do not be surprised if about July 1st the San Francisco scribes adopt our Diggers as their own for the very same thing happened in 1911 when the Oaks were in the lead, and on their way to Pennantville.

McCredie figures the Federals have cost him $7000 counting the loss of Krapp and Chadbourne, who jumped to the outlays, and the fact that Cleveland was prevented from turning over three players in exchange for Rip Hagerman by the fear that the Federalist would weaken the Naps at any moment. Hagerman was only sent to Cleveland because the Portland boss felt confident he would receive five thousand dollars' worth of talent in return.

LYREHART is still a big name in Oakland, but will probably depart for other pastures soon unless he gets an offer that looks attractive. Hagerman would make a big card in the Trolley League, where Sunday baseball is made well worth a good pitcher's time for one week.

Christy Mathewson denies he is to be traded to the Cardinals, pleading he has committed no offense sufficiently heinous to call for such drastic punishment.

Larry Page, former Boston Red Sox
twirler, is expected to join the Beavers
in the near future. He is a seasoned
twirler and will help out McCredie's staff,
which is in danger of being over-worked.

Sam Brenningham, second string catcher of the Petersburg club of the Virginia State League last year, who has been turned over to the Portland Coast team by the Beavers, likely will join the Beavers within another fortnight.

Brenningham was drafted from the little Virginia Class C circuit last fall by the Pirates. He is one of the men upon whom McCredie is counting to win when the majors submitted their lists several weeks ago.

Pittsburg took him to the Spring camp and gave him a thorough trial. Evidently he is not looking up to the majors, as Walter Mac gets him for Portland.

Last year at Petersburg Brenningham batted .275 in 89 games and stole eight bases. He ranked about half way down the list of catchers in fielding, with an average of .871.

Right now the Mackmen are going along with two catchers—the veteran Pittsburg and another league recruit, Haworth. Both are left-hand batters and Brenningham is supposed to hit from the other side of the plate.

twirler, is expected to join the Beavers
in the near future. He is a seasoned
twirler and will help out McCredie's staff,
which is in danger of being over-worked.

Rip Hagerman, the Ex-Beaver, seems to be going great guns for Cleveland.
He shut out St. Louis yesterday 4-0, allowing but four outs.

Walter Schmidt, the Seals' mainstay in the catching department, who was injured by a foul tip in Saturday's game at Sacramento, will be out of the game longer than was at first expected. As a result of the mishap Walter now has the last two fingers of his right hand done up in splinters, and it will be at least a week, if not more, before Walter can return to the game.

When the Seals make the trip to Sacramento, Schmidt should remain at home, for every time he meets with an accident it takes place in Sacramento. Two years ago a foul tip broke his thumb, just as he was going in his best.

The morning contest at Sacramento was a wild affair, the Wolves making eleven runs and eighteen hits, while the Seals were not far behind with ten hits and sixteen safeties.

Bert Coy, of home run fame, came through with one of those mighty binges in the first of the game at Sacramento and incidentally getting credit for driving the first Wolf to drive the pill over the board.

Although Devlin's Diggers are still in the second division, they have not been treated as bad as it would seem. In the first six weeks of the season, the Oakland club has won two, and lost two times and has broken even in the other two. The fact that they won their

One of the bright features of the en-coming rush of the Oaks is the return to the form of Honus Mitze, the Doughty Dutchman who has long been a pillar of support in the ranks of the locals. In 1912 Mitze was without any question the greatest catcher in the league. His catching was accurate, his work behind the plate steady and sure, and he had a marvellous facility for coming to the front in the pinches with the play or pinch to save the day.

Hard luck and managerial responsibilities, together with a bad hand, threw him out of his stride last year, but now he is back again, making his influence felt in the club. Mitze's steadiness and Angeles being the fortunate clubs to have to save the day.

The column of heights gives the elevation of each tide above or below the level of the Coast Survey chart soundings. The numbers are days additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign or dash (—), when the numbers are subtracted from the depths given on the chart.
